SOS-MOBILITIES – BULLETIN no 4

PM 4 Evaluation and Piloting /Chichester 11-12.3.2015

This is the fourth bulletin of the Leonardo da Vinci SOS-Mobilities project (2013-1-FI1-LEO05-12543) that is funded in the EU Lifelong Learning Program. The project begun it's activities on the 1st of October 2013 and the final outcomes and more detailed information can be found on the SOS-Mobilities webpage; <http://sos-mobilities.com>

Before the fourth project meeting the partners in SOS-Mobilities attended NAMSS Conference (<http://www.namss.org/About.aspx>) in Liverpool (9-10.3.2015). During the conference we spread information about our project in two workshops. The participants of the conference showed a big interest in what we are doing and our products. We also learned a lot from what they are doing and got a good opportunity for networking.

Since the third meeting in Rouen the project partners have been busy with piloting the products and doing dissemination of the project.

The fourth project meeting “Evaluation and Piloting” was held in Chichester, UK from the 11th – 12th of March. The focus was on evaluation of the results from the piloting and making necessary amendments to the materials based on the feedback gathered during and after the piloting process.

During the meeting we also agreed new clear deadlines and discussed the excellent external evaluation feedback from PM3 in Rouen. And all partners gave a presentation of the dissemination actions taken testing materials that will support and help teachers to get involved in the important job of making international mobilities available to all students.

The second day of the meeting we were planning and proposed outline for PM5; Implementation of the project outcomes & a conference open to all interested parties (Turku, Finland November 2015). During the conference the outcomes of the project will be shared to the attendees. We are planning to have two keynote speakers and different workshops. The 20th of April is deadline to agree terms of conference and get ready to promote.

On Thursday evening partners departed for the delights of Historic Portsmouth Harbor to end the meeting with dinner and some shopping.

PM4 was a productive meeting and Chichester College was a really good host for the meeting and made us feel very welcome to their nice school and their beautiful city!
